October 2 Combat and 30 Caliber Match Results

Weather was great with 25 shooters in attendance. Tommy Christ won the .30 Cal match with an NRA match rifle (M110 type) rifle using the marksmanship skills learned at MCRD. Next was John Marx (definitely a .30 cal service rifle), another product of MCRD, and Brian Comisky. Winner of combat match (service rifle, any cal) was Andy Shepherd. High overall was Dan Bugh with a .223-scoped match rifle. This was a tough course of fire using the 20x40 inch echo silhouettes at 600, 300, and 200 yds with moving targets at 200 yds. As a comparison, the US Army begins this type of match at 400 rather than 600 yds. Max possible score was 250 pts on this modified match. It's unclear who received the award plaques, and there's some question regarding Tommy's rifle. Per CMP it is not a service rifle. Per NRA it's a long-range service rifle.
